Saint-Gobain to bring Farécla into the Refinish Solutions Group (RSG)

Refinish Solutions Group (RSG) is pleased to announce Farécla, one of the largest polishing compounds manufacturers world-wide, as a new member of the alliance. Founded in 1952, Farécla is recognized for its premium, superior products in surface finishing. The brand name Farécla is a combination of French words meaning 'shining' and 'bright' - their products have been living up to their name ever since.

Refinish Solutions Group (RSG), an initiative by Saint-Gobain, has established itself as an alliance of industry leaders that leverage their core expertise to help collision centers optimize refinish processes to improve profitability. The addition of the product portfolio from Farécla, combined with the extended sales team of RSG, provides players of the collision repair industry with great access to a one-stop, comprehensive refinishing solutions system to increase productivity, reduce cycle time, and improve quality.

"Saint-Gobain-acquired Farécla late 2018", says Ron Cuccia, North America National Sales Manager, Automotive Aftermarket, Saint-Gobain Abrasives. "We are excited by the increased focus on collision repair and the technical expertise Farécla brings to engineer new solutions for the automotive market".

Additional details regarding the official launch and process for ordering Farécla products will be coming soon.
